Preparing for a trip can be stressful for both you and your pet. We know it's not always easy to leave your furry friend while you're away! That's why we take extra special care when we welcome your pet to our home. We understand someone in the group may experience some separation anxiety at the time they're dropped off so following a routine helps keep the environment stress free for your pet. We take extra care to protect the safety and well-being of all the pets we care for in our home. We ask all pet parents to be respectful of others and follow these guidelines when dropping off your precious.

- ✓ Please remember to bring your completed pet information form and copy of your pet's shot record if you haven't already completed the form online.
- ✓ Be on time. If you're going to be late or early more than fifteen minutes, please text.
- ✓ Feel free to park in the driveway as we are expecting you. We may notice you need help bringing things in the house so we will probably meet you outside to assist.
- ✓ Make sure to close doors tightly behind you and be sure there are no dogs at your feet trying to escape out the door.

Hassel free drop-off instructions

If your pet does not suffer separation anxiety, skip to STEP 5

📦 STEP 1 - If your pet feels anxious at the site of a suitcase, don't include them in your packing routine. Don't leave your suitcase half-packed in the extra-room for example and don't pull-out the suitcase until necessary. Pack when they're resting and don't make it a big deal if you do have to pack with them nearby. Just act like it's something you normally do every day.

🕒 STEP 2 - Keep the excitement level low by not reacting. Transition your pet to the vehicle after everything is packed and you're ready to go. When you arrive, all greetings should be conducted in a calm manner as if it's something we do on a regular basis. We will welcome your pet with a greeting and a hug and then draw our attention back to you to discuss any last-minute details.

- ⊙ STEP 3 - After your pooch enters the home, please allow us to provide the direction for your pet in reaction to your exit.

- ⊙ STEP 4 – IF necessary, a simple, "I love you buddy" and a pat on the head is recommended behavior when you're ready to make your exit.

- ⊙ STEP 5 - While you're leaving through the front door, make sure to close all doors on your way out. As you do, we'll be heading to the backyard for some sniffs and a little playtime.

- ⊙ STEP 6 - Have a safe trip!

Important Notes

- If your dog enjoys daily walks, you must provide a harness for your pup. A collar is no longer acceptable protection for walks. Collars are useful to display proper identification in the case your pup breaks from the harness somehow, but they are not useful, and even sometimes dangerous when used to try and control any pet. The only exception to the rule applies to elderly pups that don't run or pull, or pups with a verifiable condition that will irritate the skin if worn. If you don't have a harness and you're not sure what to buy, contact me and I will help guide you. Again, this is a must if you want your dog walked regularly. Thank you for understanding.

- All collars/harnesses are removed while pets are in the house or the backyard. All pets are supervised when in the fenced area.

- Please be mindful and ensure all doors are properly closed whenever entering or exiting the house. This is an particularly important step to ensure the safety and security of all animals in our care. We appreciate your cooperation.

- Make sure to mark all bowls, and medications, and food not in its original packaging.

- Preferred mode of contact – text 941-587-7041. Phone calls are difficult in most circumstances. Dogs rule the house most days so trying to have a conversation with dogs barking in the background is not conducive to understanding a conversation. Besides, I like to have a written record of our correspondence for reference, so I prefer texts, please and thank you. Email is another option but not the best option for emergencies or pick-up notices. If you don't text on your phone, you can leave a voicemail message and if needed, I will get back to you at first opportunity.
